

Procedure for the admission test

Master International Tourism Development

Approval procedure:

- Please apply online to Deggendorf Institute of Technology. The application period for the summer semester begins on October 1 and ends on December 1.
- Qualification for the Master's degree course of International Tourism Development is proven by completing a basic course of study at a university at home or abroad with a weighting of at least 210 ECTS points from the fields of Tourism Management, Economic Sciences and courses related to tourism or by a qualification which is equivalent to such a university degree. The examinations committee will decide on the equivalence of the degrees under consideration of section 62 BayHschG. Outstanding proofs of degree equivalence must be provided by the end of the first semester of study.
- As an applicant for the Master's programme in International Tourism Development, you qualify by successfully completing a relevant Bachelor's programme and by successfully passing an admission test. This test will ensure that you start your studies with basic skills that match our teaching concept and with the corresponding prospects of success.
- English language skills:
The programme is conducted in English, therefore English language skills must be certified at language level B 2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe. With regard to proof of this, the regulations in paragraph 3 of the Framework Examination Regulations for Additional Training in Foreign Languages and Compulsory Elective Subjects of a General Academic Nature of the Deggendorf Institute of Technology apply in the currently valid version.
- German language skills:
Knowledge at level A 2 according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages must be proven during the course of studies and can be acquired while studying.

Information on the admission test:

- The test is intended to prove the ability to work scientifically and therefore to determine whether the special qualitative requirements for the successful completion of the Master's programme in International Tourism Development are met.
- Candidates who meet the formal criteria for admission must be invited to the selection procedure.
- The admissions procedure consists of a 60-minute written test, which can also be held online if necessary, and an interview of max. 20 minutes, which can also be conducted virtually if necessary. The entire admission procedure is carried out by two lecturers from the Deggendorf Institute of Technology, at least one of whom is involved for the Master's programme in International Tourism Development.
- The admission procedure takes place online:

The online test will be proctored by an external service provider and as such will incur a fee of 26 USD. Payment has to be made with an internationally accepted credit card. In order to take the online test, you must register with ProctorU. You mustn't register with DIT for the online test.

ProctorU is a live online proctoring service that allows you to take your exam from the comfort of your home. ProctorU provides a platform with multi-factor identity verification and end-to-end video recording with AI based behavior flagging. Test-takers are guided through the entire process by a live proctor who can also assist with technical issues. ProctorU is available 24/7; however, you will need to schedule your proctoring session at least 72 hours in advance to avoid any additional on-demand scheduling fees.

In order to use ProctorU, you will need a high-speed internet connection, a webcam (internal or external), a windows or apple Operating System, and a government issued photo id.

At the scheduled day and time of your test, you must login to ProctorU. You will be guided through the next necessary steps and the proctor will unlock the actual admission test. It is crucial that you have your username and password (provided via-mail) at hand.

Once you have started the test, you will have 60 minutes to complete it. The proctor is unable to pause the clock for any reason. This is why we highly recommend that you ensure that your connection is stable for the duration of the online admission test.

- The purpose of the written examination is to recognise and assess strategic and international contexts and problems and to be able to present and discuss possible solutions. The main focus is on the basics of tourism, marketing and studying in Germany. The examination is based on open and multiple-choice questions. The written examination is considered "passed" if at least 30 of the 60 maximum points to be awarded are achieved.
- Candidates who have passed the written test "with success" will be invited to the virtual interview. A total of 40 points will be awarded. A minimum of 20 points must be achieved for successful completion of the interview.
- The following assessment criteria are applied:
 - Expert discussion (max. 20 points)
 - Motivation for the Master's programme (max. 10 points)
 - Expectations of the Master's programme (max. 5 points)
 - Relation to the future professions (max. 5 points)

The course-specific eligibility is proven when the written test and the interview have been passed "with success".

- The procedure for determining suitability for a specific degree programme is carried out once a year in the winter semester for the following summer semester. Applications for admission to the procedure, together with the application documents, must be submitted to the Deggendorf Institute of Technology in the online application procedure by the end of the application period for the following summer semester (cut-off deadline).
- Applicants who have not provided proof of their course-specific eligibility can re-register for the test once more on the date of the following year. In justified exceptional cases, it is possible to register for the test at a later date. It is not possible to retake the test at a later date.
- Minutes must be taken of the interview, showing in particular the date and place of the examination, the names of the candidates, the subjects to be examined as well as the principles for the assessment of individual performances and the determination of the results by the members of the examination committee.

- The examination board may waive participation in the interview if the applicant demonstrates above-average knowledge in the degrees pursuant to section 3, paragraph 1, no. 1. Degrees with a grade of 2.0 or better are deemed to be above average.
